From 18 to 100+m:
wide product range for commercial vessels

Böning's history started in 1977, and for many years, our focus was only commercial boats. Today, we offer a wide range of class approved solutions for smaller commercial vessels, such as patrol boats and tugs, to large vessels (100+m), like cruise ships and supply vessels.

Below are some of our recent projects, with the number of projects delivered for each model.

For more information, please download our brochure with Commercial Vessels products.

Who do you trust for your boat refit?

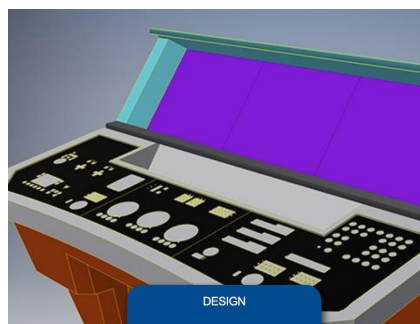

A successful refit project starts with a good survey of the vessel, when the relevant information about the existing conditions are verified, documented and passed to the design team.

In addition to a good product, teamwork is the main factor in achieving project objectives. The example below shows the cooperation of 4 companies, in designing, manufacturing and delivering a flybridge refit project.

Böning's consistency in the marine industry for over 40 years, our engaged and committed team, and our certified products make ideal combination, at the moment of choosing who to entrust your boat with.
